

June 23, 2009

RE: CPSIA Compliance

RECEIVED AUG 14 2009

To Valued Rhino Toys Customer:

Thank you for carrying Rhino Toys products. We at Rhino Toys are committed to providing safe, fun toys to children of all ages.

On August 14, 2008, an updated version of the Federal Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act (CPSIA) was signed into law. Sections of this newly revised law directly impact the toy industry. Rhino Toys is issuing this statement to provide you with information about our compliance with all relevant aspects of the Act, particularly regarding lead, phthalates and small parts notifications.

LEAD: Rhino Toys' products meet all lead safety standards. All Rhino Toys' products are rigorously tested by a certified 3rd party testing agency and have passed the lead requirements in the Act and ASTM standards. (Sections 101, 102, 106)

PHthalATES: Rhino Toys' products do not contain any phthalates. The plastics used in Rhino Toys' products are rigorously tested by a certified 3rd party testing agency and have passed the phthalates requirements in the Act. (Sections 102, 106, 108)

NOTIFICATION: Only one of Rhino Toys' products has a choking hazard, Jointz[®]. On the front of the Jointz package it states, "Warning! Choking Hazard: Small Parts, Not For Children Under 3 Years" on the packaging. The law now requires that all advertisement with the opportunity to purchase, either web or catalog, also bear this warning. Please consider this your notification to include this warning should you advertise these products (Section 105).

TRACKING REQUIREMENTS: Rhino Toys' products will meet the Tracking Label requirement to the extent practicable. This will be implemented on all products that will be shipping after August 14th, 2009.

As more information regarding this ACT emerges Rhino Toys will continue to modify its packaging and production to meet the safety needs of our customers and the CPSIA.

Thank you so much for your support of Rhino Toys. Should you have additional questions or concerns with how Rhino Toys in complying with the CPSIA, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

Customer Service
Rhino Toys, Inc.